The Inspired Leader Journey™

Leading with Values & Purpose

A COLLABORATION BETWEEN CORPORATE EVOLUTION & PURPOSEFUL CHANGE

LONDON, 30 SEPTEMBER - 1 OCTOBER 2019

A two-day program designed to transform your leadership through the lens of your Values and Purpose.

In today’s fast changing world, leaders are challenged with how to engage their people, resolve competing stakeholder needs AND find work/life balance. This defines what an adaptive leader needs to be. In this two-day program, we focus on unlocking your business challenges in a way that enables you to grow and thrive at work and in your personal life, making a bigger difference in their world.

“It freed me up to be creative, to see perspectives that I could not see before, and, as a consequence I was able to turn the business around.”

- DAVID FLANNAGAN, FORMER CEO OF ATLAS IRON
What we’ve found is that when leaders connect with their Values and Purpose, they are inspired to step outside their comfort zone into a place of courageous authenticity.

This program provides an opportunity for busy leaders to get off the “dance-floor” of their work, and get onto the “balcony” to explore who they wish to become as a leader.

Through a lens of your top values, we help you reframe your challenges and use them as personal and leadership growth opportunities.

This program evolved from working with one of the leading global management consultancies, where we facilitated transformational leadership programs for multinationals across industry sectors around the world for over 15 years. We have evolved this transformational program to integrate the latest leadership research with a focus on values and expanding consciousness in a way that transforms your leadership.

What we have found is that when leaders connect with their Values and Purpose, they are inspired to step outside their comfort zone into courageous authenticity. Limiting beliefs and mindsets are transformed and liberated so that your full potential can be explored.

Course Content

The course is based on leadership and consciousness research; an integration of Kegan’s Adult Stages of Development (Harvard), Ron Heifetz’s Adaptive Leadership (Harvard), Otto Scharmer’s Theory U (MIT), Barrett 7 Levels of Consciousness and The Leadership Circle.

What people have to say

“I’ve been on plenty of leadership courses and whilst useful they never got to the heart of what has been holding me back. If you really want to speak your truth and understand and believe it wholeheartedly then this is the course for you.”

- FELICITY HUGHES | SENIOR MANAGER, BUSINESS PLANNING & FINANCE, HESS

“It’s almost inconceivable to say to someone that in two days, we can teach you something about yourself that says that your limitations are only constrained by yourself... What I found that in this process of being less upset about a scenario, it freed up part of my brain to be more creative”.

- DAVID FLANNAGAN, FORMER CEO OF ATLAS IRON

This program is like no other I have ever attended. In part, I was expecting to learn about “being a more inspiring leader”, but the result was about becoming an inspired human

- LISLE NURSE, OPERATIONS MANAGER, KINETIC IT

“This program has enabled me to think and approach my work and the people around me in a more substantial way. It has given me a way to explore myself to better understand, and therefore move past, the reactions I have and the way I think. It was unique in that it didn’t steer away from difficult issues, but rather safely guided me through a series of tools and processes to better understand and then choose how I can break some old patterns of behaviour.

- KELLIE MCCRUM, CULTURE & CAPABILITY MANAGER, CBH GROUP

“If you truly want to get the best out of yourself, discover your purpose and live your values, this program is for you. It is facilitated by amazing people who combine world class science and intelligence with intuitive wisdom and genuine sense of well-being for all. Seriously good role models. The most valuable part of the program was the break-through I achieved on the morning of the second day. This breakthrough was life changing. It lead to the discovery of my purpose and how to achieve this through living my values. It is liberating to believe you can live your values, and be a high performer at the highest level. This was achieved through the thoughtful, well-constructed program. I believe the combination of theory and practice, done in a respectful and caring way, enabled this outcome.”

- CFO, ASX TOP 20 COMPANY

“This is not a cookie cutter “leadership program” or a program to teach newbies “how to be an MP”. This is about finding the best in yourself and using it to achieve great things for Australia”

- MEMBER OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL (WA), ATTENDED AS PART OF THE PARLIAMENTARY LEADERSHIP PROGRAM
About Corporate Evolution
